How I work: Animal Communication is the sending and receiving of information with animals beyond the spoken word or physical interaction. We speak energetically, tuning in soul to soul and heart to heart. It is a natural gift in all humans based on intuition and unconditional love. I also work with telepathy and use energy healing techniques to assist animals in their journeys. It is never simply a matter of me telling an animal what to do but rather hearing them deeply and working with them and you towards a more harmonious and happy future for all.

Communication Sessions: I work best connecting with animals through their photographs only. This allows me to work with animals all over the world without physically interacting with them. I also speak with animals who have passed over to assist them and you on your spiritual journey.

I communicate with an animal during the day of our appointment, followed by a Skype call with you (30 to 40minutes) for feedback. An audio recording of the call is emailed to you afterwards. On the day its best if your animal is in its normal routine or resting. If it has other appointments or will be very occupied please let me know.

Why communicate?

- To hear their feelings, insights and needs in situations
- To assist them through transitions
- To pass your messages, questions or needs over to them clearly
- To resolve issues and create changes for greater harmony
- To open and deepen in your relationship with them

What to expect? Anything! Animals are thinking, loving and spirited beings. Like with humans communications can be complex or simple, a fast or a slow moving river. Each individual is a unique make-up of personality, sensitivity, resilience, strength, fragility, humour, magic, insight and wisdom... just like you know them to be.

How many sessions? Generally a single communication is all that is needed. With more serious cases more sessions will be advised on as the animal indicates this to me. If multiple behavioural and/ health issues are present I will cover what I can in a consult working from the primary issue. Sometimes just talking does the trick or an animal may show that further actions are required to gain the changes you desire. This could be anything from a change in diet, environment, routines or relationships, to a trip to the vet, chiropractor, behaviourist or maybe just more time with you. I do not diagnose or prescribe but will express what I see and receive from them as part of a holistic and integrated approach to animal care.

Fee: R800 for the first communication

R680 per animal for follow ups and 2nd and 3rd animals in the family.

International: PayPal at $80 for the 1st session and $65 thereafter
